

BANGLADESH RURAL ELECTRIFICATION BOARD

BREB INSTRUCTION 700-14

Approval Date :31/01/1993

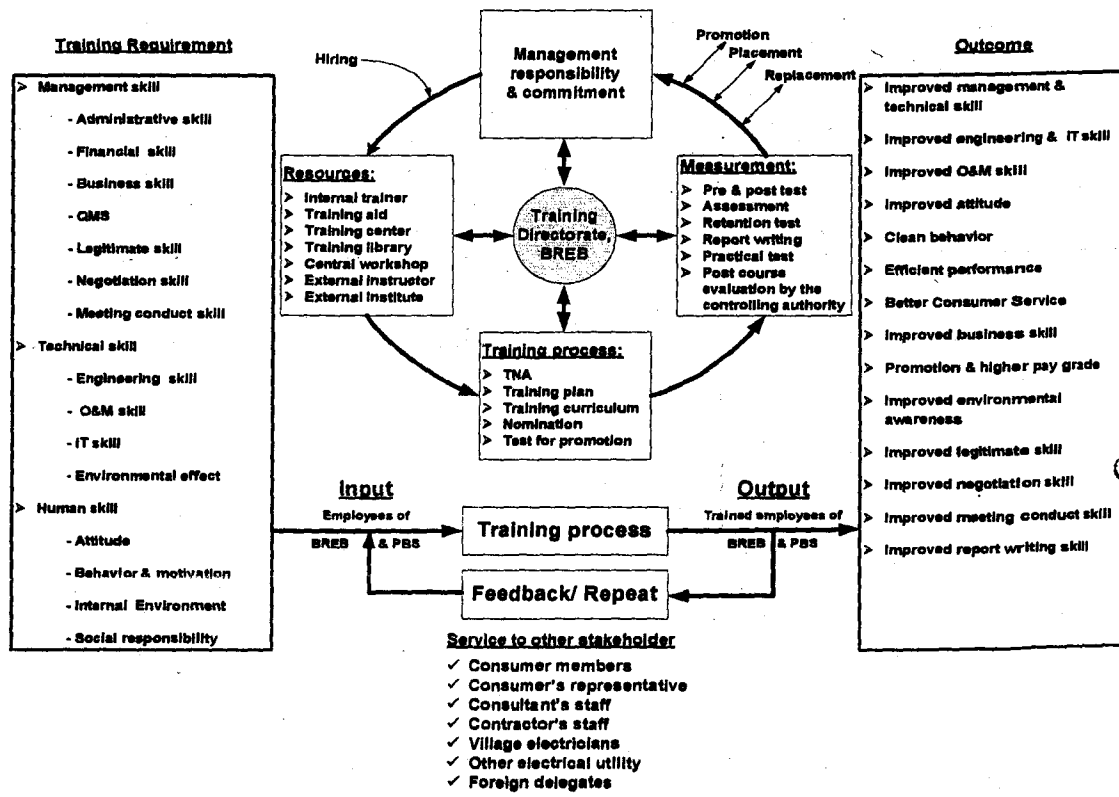

Revision Date : 26/10/2014

SUBJECT: Functions and organization of the BREB Directorate of Training.

BACKGROUND:

Training Directorate was established with a vision to enhance the capacity of manpower of BREB, PBSS and other Stakeholders. The goal of BREB as a Pioneer in Rural electrification activities through area coverage of Bangladesh is to provide quality and affordable electricity ranging from developed industrial zones to the remotest corners of the country. To achieve this goal there is no alternative but to develop its human resources through continuous and quality training. Being a service oriented organization, BREB places utmost importance to the requirements of its PBSS, consumers and stakeholders with maximum efficiency and effectiveness. In this regard, BREB formulated an instruction by which its Training Directorate will be able to take necessary actions in the prospect of quality and effective Training Programmes.

In most cases, courses will be grouped together into programs. The most likely groupings of courses will be presented in the plan. A career plan for each position will then show each year and the programs as groups of courses that ideally will take place in each year.

- D. The final recommendations of each committee will be collected by the Training Directorate and consolidated into a proposed Curriculum Plan revision. This plan will first be reviewed by the concern Member and then by the Chairman, BREB. It will then be Placed on for BREB Board approval.
- E. The approved Curriculum Plan will provide the basic framework for developing and administering all BREB conducted training.
- F. In addition to the standard BREB training specified in the Curriculum Plan other needs for training will be identified and arranged for through individualized on-the-job training within the RE program, or by special training arrangements within Bangladesh or by special foreign programs to be conducted in other countries.

2.2 DEVELOPING INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS:

- A. The Training Directorate will be responsible for the development of each training course that is specified in the Curriculum Plan on a 'most needed first' basis.
- B. The active involvement and contribution of all concerned Offices/Directorates will be sought in order to make each course effective and relevant according to the latest policies, instructions and conditions. This will be formally arranged through 'Curriculum Sub Committees (CSC)'. CSC will be responsible to propose a new course or review an existing course. For each course or a group of courses of similar type, one 'CSC' will be chosen with the approval of the concern Member.

A typical CSC will be comprised of officers at the Director or Deputy Director level from the Training Directorate and the one or two Offices/Directorates most closely associated with the main topics of the course(s). The members of a CSC for any given course will be required to contribute to the production of each of the course components as described in the following section 'C' below. Each component must also be reviewed and recommended for approval by the respective CSC. Each course will be finally approved by the respective Curriculum Committee as mentioned in section-2.1(B).

C. Each course will include the following components that need to be developed in a prescribed format developed by the Training Directorate.

1. A Course description: One course description will be developed for each course and will include the following sections but not limited to:

a. Course code: This will be allocated by Training Directorate and included in the Curriculum Plan after approved by the curriculum committee.

b. Course title: This will be proposed by the 'CSC' and will be included in the curriculum plan after approved by the curriculum committee.

c. Course type: Such as Technical, Engineering, Operation, Construction, Lineman, Wiring, ICT, Institutional Management, Institutional Finance etc.

d. A statement of objectives (Course objectives): This will include one overall purpose of the course and also a list of desired performance capabilities to be gained by trainees through participation in the course.

- e. Participant: A list of participant(s) including designation & ID No. (Identification Number) for whom the course is designed.
- f. An outline (Course content): This will be a list of all topics in proper order along with the number of instructional periods (Class-Hours) and approximate class-weight factor (if possible) related to each topic and total periods (Class-Hours).
- g. A statement of methodology: This will be a summary statement of the main teaching methods to be used to conduct the course.
- i. A model schedule: The schedule will be based on the prevailing working day length and assuming holidays cannot disrupt it. This schedule will show the ideal order and time-wise distribution of course topics throughout the length of the course. Day may be adjusted by the Director (Training) for unavoidable situation, such as working hour is changed, long time absence of target trainees is seriously harmful to meet up the goal and function of the organization, etc. remaining class-hour unchanged.

2. A Course Manual: One course manual will be developed for each course. A course manual will serve as the main resource for the trainees in that course. Each course manual will contain a Table of Contents and one chapter for each topic in the course. Each chapter will contain the core information pertaining to the respective topic with reference to other resources such as concerned BREB/PBS Instruction, Policies, Government Rules, and Regulations etc. Course manuals may be initially developed in English but eventually all must be published in Bengali.

3. A Trainer's Manual: One trainer's manual will be developed for each course. A trainer's manual will serve as the main resource for the instructors/ trainers/ facilitators who conduct that course. Each trainer's manual will contain a Table of Contents and one Lesson Plan for each topic in the course. Each Lesson Plan will contain the core information pertaining to the respective topic (and chapter in the course Manual) with references to other resources such as concerned BREB/PBS Instruction Policies, Government rules, and Regulations etc. It will also contain notes on advanced preparation required for teaching each topic, extra material to be presented, audio-visual resources to be utilized, practical exercises, and other special teaching technique to be employed.

4. Audio-Visual Resources: Special Audio-Visual Resources will be developed or in some cases adapted for each course. These will include slide presentations, films, transparency/ document camera/ multimedia presentations, and video presentations. In some cases an audio-visual resource may be used for more than one course. In such case however, the resource will be reviewed by each concerned CSC in order to ensure its appropriateness for each course.

D. When each of the components as described above has been developed and proposed by a CSC the resulting course will be reviewed by the Director, Training. With the approval of the Director, Training, the course will then be offered on a pilot test basis, however for ordinary type new courses and for minor adjustment of existing courses, pilot test may be avoided. After the pilot test (if needed), adjustments may be made and approved by the CSC. This final form of the course will be reviewed by the Director, Training and forwarded to the concern Member for approval.

2.3 ADMINISTERING INSTRUCTIONAL PROGRAMS:

The Training Directorate will be responsible for administering the Instructional programs which have been developed by and for Rural Electrification Personnel. Several vital functions in this regard are outlined below:

A. GENERAL SUPPORT FUNCTIONS: The Director, Training will lead the training officers and staff in performing the following support functions required for all training activities. One Assistant Engineer- Logistics will be particularly concerned with the related arrangements.

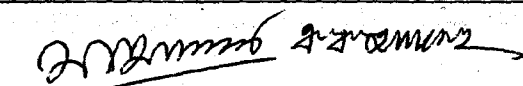

1. Classroom and office facilities are to be planned, acquired and maintained. These must be sufficient in size and adequate to accommodate all training officers and staff alongwith classroom space, storage facilities and a library as per the needs of the training schedules. The Director, Training will periodically evaluate and report on the adequacy of facilities to higher authorities.
2. In addition to normal office equipment and staff, stenographic and photocopy/ printing/ duplication facilities and personnel should be maintained to produce training written resources, such as circulars and training manual drafts etc. In some cases, production of printed resources, such as training manuals will be contracted to private publishing firms following the Public Procurement Regulation/Act.
3. Special audio-visual equipment and resources will be planned, acquired and maintained. Equipment for both production and display of audio-visual resources will be included.

4. Outdoor accommodations for practical training in technical areas will be planned, acquired and maintained. Training related to line design, line construction, line and equipment maintenance and operation and consumer wiring will include significant portions of time spent in practical exercises. Adequate materials, equipment and tools must be acquired, stored and maintained to support this aspect for training. A large flat field as close to the classroom facilities as possible will be maintained supporting this function. In all cases especially for technical training, necessary safety measures and work procedure must be maintained.
5. Hostel facilities must be provided. These must be adequate to accommodate all types of PBS and BREB personnel in numbers commensurate with the projected training schedules. Overnight lodging and food services will be arranged for these trainees, who normally live outside Dhaka or long way from training hostel/center/venue.

B. PLANNING FUNCTIONS: With the guidance of the Director, Training, the Deputy Director, Planning and Records will carry out special responsibilities for the following:

1. Projected schedules will be made by the Planning and Records section of the Training Directorate on a three month basis. These schedules will show the planned dates for all the specific courses in a coming quarter. Each quarterly schedule must be completed in final form not less than one month before the beginning of that quarter. These schedules will be made after consultation regarding new recruiting plans with the Directorate of Personnel Administration and the Directorate of PBS Human Resource. It will be the responsibility of those other Directorates to report all plans for new hiring and other likely developments that will require specific training programs during the quarter being planned.

2. In addition to the three month schedules, an annual target plan will be made each year to state in general terms the types of training and categories of recipients that will receive Training. This plan will be made at the beginning of each year and will be used to monitor the balance in training between the various aspects, such as requirements of PBS Instruction Policy 300-51 for PBSs and Service Rules for BREB. This early plan will be circulated to all concern stakeholders by the Director, Training.

C. COURSE PREPARTIONS: With the guidance of the Director, Training the Deputy Directors or equivalent, Institutional (Management, Finance and Others) Training and Technical Training will carry out special responsibilities for the following:

1. One officer (usually at the AD/AE level) will be assigned as the Course Coordinator and one officer (usually at DD level) will be assigned as course director for each course. The course coordinator will act under the leadership of the respective Deputy Director and course director will act under the leadership of Director (Training) to ensure that all the appropriate arrangements are made for a course from the planned stage to the completed records stage in order to assure success of the course.
2. A course information circular will be prepared and sent to all trainees and instructors/trainers/facilitators to be involved in a course. The circular must be issued and forwarded to all trainers/facilitators/concerned parties in time to permit smooth scheduling and personal planning. Each circular will contain the dates and titles of each course alongwith the list of topics, and a projected schedule and weight factor of appropriate topic. A circular will also contain all pertinent information related to personal preparations that should be made prior to the course and any notes on accommodations, travel or other information that might be of benefit to the participants.

6. Certain official training courses will be conducted by PBS staff. The list of such courses will be periodically updated in a separate instruction of 700 series and/or without including in instruction only the list of such training courses alongwith approved curriculum will be circulated by the Training Directorate, BREB. In most cases manuals and other training materials will be supplied by the BREB Training Directorate. The BREB Training Directorate will also provide testing and certification of trainees in most of the courses at the end of course, specially those have Course ID No. and training and/or test is conducted by the BREB Training Directorate or it's authorized person(s) or firms/vendors.

2.4 RECORDING TRAINING PROGRESS:

With the guidance of the Director, Training the Deputy Director, Planning and Records will carry out special responsibilities related to the following:

- A. At the conclusion of each course the coordinator will make a permanent record of the results for each trainee and notify the concerned parties of the same.

- B. At the beginning of each month the deputy Director, Institutional (Management, Finance and Others) Training and the Deputy Director, Technical Training will collect, all the basic information related to all the courses that began in the previous month. This will include the actual opening and closing dates the number of trainees and the number of instructional periods for each course. This information will be given to the Deputy Director, Planning and Records.

- C. The Deputy Director, Planning and records will maintain a permanent file of monthly training activity reports. Each monthly report will contain the titles and basic information for all the courses that took place in that month.

- D. At the beginning of each year the deputy Director, Planning and Records will compile an Annual Report covering all the training courses that were offered in the previous year. The annual Report will summarize the training outputs for the year and provide highlights of training emphasis that pertained to it.
